

Vignetting an image

1. Open an image in photoshop, go to file>new open a white image the same size as your original, move the white image over your original, in layers change opacity so you can see your original image, go to the elliptical marquee tool. take the cursor to the lower left and drag to the upper right till you get the size oval you want. Go to edit>clear you have your vignettted image, go to select>deselect, if you want to reveal part of your image outside the oval. go to the eraser tool erase the area, now in layers change opacity of the vignette to 100, you can change the color of the vignette,by using the paint bucket tool,you can add texture by using filter>texture>texturizer>sandstone. Now play with it. Have fun. Any comments send to LPRICEE@AOL.COM
