- A decorative graphic featuring a large, five-pointed star with a thick black outline and a white fill. The star is positioned in the center of a wavy, horizontal line that flows from left to right. The line is composed of several overlapping, semi-transparent bands of blue and white. Scattered around the star and the line are various circular elements, including solid blue circles, white circles with black outlines, and larger circles with a blue-to-white gradient. There are also some irregular, splatter-like shapes in blue and white. The entire graphic is set against a solid black background.
